The date the Fund started:	29 May 2023

What are the risks of investing?

Risk indicator for the Betashares Australian Investment Grade Corporate Bond Fund (NZD Hedged)[1]

The risk indicator is rated from 1 (low) to 7 (high). The rating reflects how much the value of the Fund's assets goes up and down. A higher risk generally means higher potential returns over time, but more ups and downs along the way.

To help you clarify your own attitude to risk, you can seek financial advice or work out your risk profile at www.sorted.org.nz/tools/investorkickstarter.

Note that even the lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment, and there are other risks that are not captured by this rating.

This risk indicator is not a guarantee of a fund's future performance. The risk indicator is based on the returns data for 5 years to 30 September 2025. While risk indicators are usually relatively stable, they do shift from time to time. The risk indicator will continue to be updated in future fund updates.

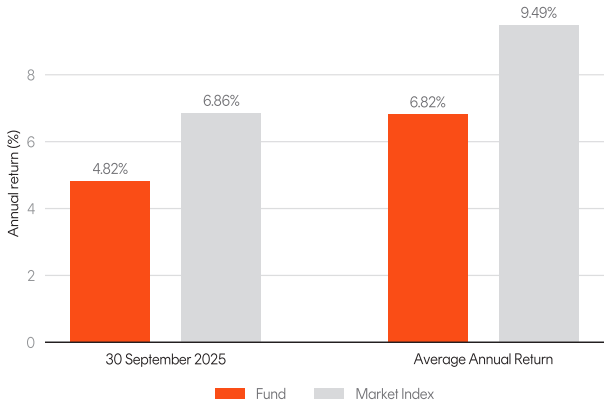
See the Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) for more information about the risks associated with investing in this Fund.

How has the Fund performed?

	Past year
Annual return (after deductions for charges and tax)	4.82%
Annual return (after deductions for charges but before tax)	6.70%
Market index annual return (reflects no deduction for charges and tax)	6.86%

The market index annual return is based on the annual return of the Solactive Australian Investment Grade Corporate Bond Select TR NZD Hedged Index. Additional information about the market index is available in the 'Statement of Investment Policy and Objectives' document available on the offer register at www.disclose-register.companiesoffice.govt.nz.

Annual return graph



This shows the return after fund charges and tax for each year ending 30 September since the fund started. The last bar shows the average annual return since the fund started, up to 30 September 2025.

Important: This does not tell you how the fund will perform in the future. Returns in this update are after tax at the highest prescribed investor rate (PIR) of tax for an individual New Zealand resident. Your tax may be lower.

What fees are investors charged?

Investors in the Betashares Australian Investment Grade Corporate Bond Fund (NZD Hedged) are charged fund charges. In the year to 31 March 2025, these were:

	% of net asset value
Total fund charges	0.34%
Which are made up of:
Total management and administration charges	0.34%
Including:
Manager's basic fee	0.34%
Other management and administration charges	0.00%
Total performance-based fees	0.00%
	Dollar amount per investor or description of how charge is calculated
Other charges	Nil

Investors may also be charged individual action fees for specific actions or decisions (for example, for withdrawing from or switching funds). See the PDS for more information about those fees.

Small differences in fees and charges can have a big impact on your investment over the long term.

Example of how this applies to an investor[2]

Matthew had $10,000 in the Fund at the start of the year and did not make any further contributions. At the end of the year, Matthew received a return after fund charges were deducted of $669.89 (that is 6.70% of his initial $10,000). Matthew also paid $0 in other charges. This gives Matthew a total return after tax of $482.32 for the year.

[1] Market index returns have been used for the period 1 October 2020 to 3 July 2023 as the Fund was launched on 4 July 2023. The risk indicator reflects the Fund's actual returns for the period 4 July 2023 to 30 September 2025. As a result, the risk indicator may provide a less reliable indicator of the potential future volatility of the Fund.
[2] As the Fund launched on 4 July 2023, this calculation is based on the market index return up until 3 July 2023 and the Fund's actual returns post this date.
